Head Trainer: Master Sergey Grabuzov

Sergey is a graduate and faculty member of the Russian State University of Physical Education, and dating back to 1990 has trained and prepared five current Grandmasters and countless International Masters. Sergey will work with students to improve their overall game through problem solving, game analysis, opening preparation, and endgame studies. Sergey, like many other top players and trainers, also understands the importance of physical fitness for chess players and has range of exercises and athletic competitions to keep students in shape while still having fun.

The Master-Level program will only be available at the Glen Rock location, and is designed to allow more serious students an isolated atmosphere to focus on improvement

Requirements: A USCF/FIDE Rating of 1200, or higher.

Pricing: The cost is $500 per week if paid before May 1st ($600 regular)
